Due to the dynamic nature of the electronic industry, the accessories and the parts used for repairing and servicing are being expanded constantly.

New products, accessories and service aids become available every day.

For WES Components to have stock of the parts that you may require, we need you to help us with any new product suggestions.

Your input in this will be much appreciated. The extensive product range available in this catalogue has eventuated mainly from customers who have taken the time to inform us of what items they think we should stock.

Please supply us with as much information as practical. This will assist us in sourcing the part and understanding where it belongs. Any enquiries, suggestions or constructive criticisms helps us at WES to serve you better.
